University Press Scholarship Online brings the same cutting-edge search and discovery functionality that has marked the success of Oxford Scholarship Online to a greatly expanded content base.

UPSO delivers content from university presses around the world, via the following sites: Oxford Scholarship Online, Fordham Scholarship Online, Cairo Scholarship Online, Florida Scholarship Online, Hong Kong Scholarship Online, and Kentucky Scholarship Online.

UPSO allows users to deep search the full range of monograph scholarship with over 7,000 titles in 21 subject areas from the world’s top university presses.

Content is provided in XML, allowing for deep tagging and a better search experience.

Comprehensive structure helps users find content to suit their research needs. Abstracts and key words freely available at book and chapter level.

An invaluable teaching resource – DOIs at book and chapter level enable linking from online course packs and reading lists with IP authentication on campus and remote access available.

Regularly updated with newly-published works.
Navigating from the Home Page
The Home Page allows the user to navigate to content quickly and intuitively. Search and Browse options are available on every page, as well as access to an Advanced Search option for more direct searching.

1. Use the Browse subject menu to view all titles in a subject area
2. Set Subject Specializations to limit your search to specific subject area(s)
3. Subscribe to our RSS feed to receive the latest UPSO updates and developments

Welcome to University Press Scholarship Online
A vast and rapidly-expanding online research library, University Press Scholarship Online (UPSO) offers full-text access to the best scholarly publishing from around the world, making disparately published scholarship easily accessible, highly discoverable, and fully cross-searchable via a single online platform.

Featured book:
Derrida Vis-à-vis Lacan
Andrea Hurst
Derrida and Lacan have long been viewed as proponents of two opposing schools of thought. This book argues, however, that the logical structure underpinning Lacanian psychoanalytic theory is a complex, paradoxical relationality that corresponds to Derrida’s “plural logic of the aporia.” It begins by linking this logic to a strand of thinking (in which Freud plays a part) that unsettles philosophy’s transcendental tradition...read more

Browsing by subject
The Browse menu is available on every page and allows you to view all titles within a specific subject area. When you select a subject, the Browse results page is displayed. The subject carousel appears at subject level and shows new titles in the selected area. Use the arrows at the side of the carousel to move through the titles and click a cover to view the book.

1. Access the full title list for the current subject selection – available as both PDF and XLS
2. View (or remove) current filter selection in UPSO
3. Use filters in the left panel to narrow your choices further (publication date, sub-disciplines)
4. Easily see if you have access to content: an open or closed padlock icon indicates full-text or abstract-only access
Working with Subject Specializations in the Quick Search

The Quick Search box is available on every page. You can pre-filter your search queries by using the Search my Subject Specializations feature. Your selection will remain available to toggle on your searches throughout your session.

1. Click Search my Subject Specializations to display the subject menu
2. Check the subjects you require to limit your search
3. Once you’ve made selections you can then use the toggle box to apply or de-select the filter when searching
Advanced Search

Advanced Search is available on every page and allows more powerful and complex searching of the full-text within UPSO.

1. Use the drop down menus to select values for your search criteria.
2. Click Add Row and Remove Row to build the search query.

Advanced search

Search by entering a word or phrase in the search field. Add new row(s) to include additional words or phrases and refine your search further.

Search:

- Full text

- Search

[-] Remove row
Working with Quick Search results

When running a Quick Search or an Advanced Search, you will be presented with a search results page from which you can refine your results further, or save, print, email, or share the results list.

1. Review or remove search filters
2. Change how many titles are listed in the search results
3. Print, save, email, or bookmark search results
4. Change the number of results per page and the sorting options
5. Filter the results further, using options in the left panel
6. Search within results
Navigating within full-text pages

Each full-text browser page contains one chapter of the book. Use the Table of Contents to quickly navigate the book.

1. Use the Table of Contents to quickly navigate the book
2. The progress indicator shows your current location within the book and allows you to move through chapters in the book
3. Download the chapter to PDF for offline reading
4. Print, save, cite, email, or share (via social networks) the current chapter
5. Carry out a search within the current book
6. Find alternate ways to access the current book
7. Jump straight to the page number (from the printed book)
1. Students who click on this URL will be taken straight to this chapter/book.

2. DOIs are unique and permanent so you don’t need to worry about broken links.
Sharing information with colleagues
You can share books, chapters and search results in a number of ways: printing, emailing, social bookmarking (e.g. on Twitter or Facebook), posting DOIs, and citing the source in your research.

1. At the book, chapter, and search/browse results page, you will have access to the toolbar
2. Roll a cursor over the bookmark tool to reveal a menu that will allow you to share the material
3. Use the DOI to link to online course packs, share with colleagues, and save to easily search for the content again
Saving links with your personalisation options

UPSO has personalisation features that can be accessed via a free user account. These allow you to save links to commonly-used books, chapters, and search results.

1. Sign in or sign up for a free user account through the links on the top toolbar
2. Once signed in, you have access to My Work
3. View recent activity on the Most Recent tab
4. View links to saved chapters and books on My Content tab
5. View links to saved searches on My Searches tab
6. Change your account password in My Account tab
7. Quickly access saved links from the My Content and My Searches drop-down menus
Citing a book in UPSO

UPSO can export citations to EndNote™, ReferenceManager™, ProCite™, RefWorks™, Zotero™, and BibTex™.

1. Click on the pencil icon in the toolbar to launch the Citation Export window.
2. Select the required export Format (MLA, APA, or Chicago) from the drop down list and click Export.
3. You can also preview and copy and paste from selected formats.

Bayesian Smoothing and Regression for Longitudinal, Spatial and Event History Data
Ludwig Fahrmeier and Thomas Kneib

Abstract
Several recent advances in smoothing and semiparametric regression are presented in this book from a unifying, Bayesian perspective. Simulation-based full Bayesian Markov chain Monte Carlo (MCMC) inference, as well as empirical Bayes procedures closely related to penalized likelihood estimation and mixed models, are considered here. Throughout, the focus is on semiparametric regression and smoothing based on basis expansions of unknown functions and effects in combination with smoothness priors for the basis coefficients. Beginning with a review of basic methods for smoothing and mixed models, ...

Keywords: smoothing, semiparametric regression, Bayesian perspective, Markov chain Monte Carlo, MCMC, forestry, developmental economics, medicine, marketing, bayesian
